Favorite thing about teaching:	"Seeing when students have that AHA moment... There is nothing more gratifying than a student finding the confidence and knowledge to solve problems on their own. I also cherish the ability to see them grow into a contributing and successful citizen in the community. Seeing my students' dreams coming true and success after graduation is an amazing thing, that makes me so proud."

Favorite thing about teaching:	"My absolute favorite thing about teaching is developing my relationships with students, nurturing them through middle school and watching those kids find their own success by becoming independent with the right supports in place in high school and beyond!"
